BAKESABOUTCONTACT

About Us

I’ve always had an interest in cooking and baking. I enjoyed baking cakes for friends and family events and even made an appearance on channel 4’s “Come dine with me” many moons ago, which still comes back to haunt me from time to time.

I have always tried to pass on my interest to my son and thought that there could be some mileage in making it easy for parents to help introduce baking at an early age without all the stress of making sure all the ingredients are available.

So in 2021 with time on my hands I cam up with the concept of Will’s Bakeaway where not only could customers order some of my pre made declicious sweet treats but they could also order bake along kits to introduce themselvs or their kids to the tasty world of baking.
